Police at Norman Unable to Find Trace of Thieves or the Stolen Property

SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.
NORMAN, Nov. 23.—A record number of robberies have taken place in Norman in the last few days and the authorities are at a loss to explain the epidemic.

One man was shot to death while attempting to rob a local drug store. The night watchman of the store saw the thief in the establishment and took after him and commanded him to stop, as he had started to run as soon as he saw the night watchman.

Falling to stop when he was commanded to do so, he was shot by the night watchman and his identity has not been solved yet.

The Kappa Sigma fraternity was entered and robbed for the second time in the past year when it was on November 15, and the loss of the thief was estimated at $500 in clothing and jewelry. The clothing taken consisted of suits and overcoats, and the jewelry was a fraternity pin and watch. Now if the fraternities on the campus have instituted a system of guarding the houses at night by shifts and every pledge has to serve on this guard.

A rooming house on Jenkins was entered while the inmates were at a football game and property valued at $350 was taken. The cook of the house was present at the time of the robbery and heard and saw the robber. He came and struck his head in at the room where she was working and in order to pass off all suspicion he asked for one of the boys in the house, and was told that he was not in at the time. Thinking her for her trouble he turned and walked out of the house.

D. H. Wallers Freed of Killing of Lee Brady Near Dustin

SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.
OKEMAH, Nov. 23.—D. H. Wallers, arrested on a murder charge last Sunday, was released from custody at his preliminary hearing here before Justice W. J. Lawrence. According to the evidence of witnesses the killing was in self defense. The parties have been living down on the river just north of Dustin in this county.

Wallers had bought a little store and eating house belonging to a man named Brady, and Brady had left a few dishes at the place until Wallers could secure others. On Sunday, Brady sent his brother, Lee Brady, after the dishes. Mrs. Waller got them for Brady and when Brady claimed that there was one plate missing, Mrs. Wallers immediately put in one here to make up the shortage, she claiming that the dish had been broken. When Mrs. Wallers set out three glasses, Brady claimed there were five left with her. Mrs. Wallers denied this and Brady began cursing her. Wallers demanded that he quit using such language to his wife and Brady began cursing him and demanded that he quit using such language to his wife. At first Wallers refused but finally started to go out when his wife caught hold of him and persuaded him not to go out.

Brady went out stating that he would make him come out. He went to a wagon, picked up a shot gun and fired at Wallers. He went back into the house and throwing the gun on Mrs. Wallers, she threw up her hands. At this time Wallers called to Brady to drop his gun. Instead of obeying Wallers intent of shooting Wallers when he was shot in the face by the defendant. It was shown that Brady had been drinking and was evidently hunting for trouble.

SANTA FE WOULD EXTEND BRANCH

Drumright Spur Might Be Built Into Shamrock and on to Depew

SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.
JULIUMBRIGHT, Nov. 23.—A large party of officials of the Santa Fe railroad spent a day here inspecting the property of the Santa Fe in and about Drumright. All refused to make any comment regarding the purpose of their visit here.

The party was headed by P. C. Fox, acting general manager of the eastern division of the Santa Fe. He was accompanied by H. S. Farley, assistant general manager of the western line. Among other officials were J. E. McMahon, superintendent, Denison, Texas; B. Cross, superintendent of building and bridge construction; J. B. McKinley, trainmaster; P. O. Walker, road master and other officials.

The head officials left the train on coming to the outskirts of the city. They walked down the track and again boarded the special train which then went on down as far as the steel extends to the Tidal plant.

The visit has aroused the interest of Drumright people in the light of rumor of the construction of a line through to Shamrock or Depew. Ever since the renewed development here by oil companies there has been talk of better railroad accommodations. This has been aggravated by the laying of heavy steel on this branch last summer.
